

A WORD FROM HEAVEN

Presented by Wendy Alec

HELLO BELOVED, I AM GOING TO SPEND SOME MORE TIME TODAY, CARRYING ON FROM WHERE WE LEFT OFF. I CAN'T HELP IT, THE LORD'S WORD STILL IS 'TRANSITION', AND I NEED TO CARRY ON WITH THAT, BUT FIRSTLY I WANT TO READ SOMETHING FROM THE JOURNAL OF THE UNKNOWN PROPHET ENTITLED 'TO THOSE SUFFERING DEPRESSION.'

TO THOSE SUFFERING DEPRESSION

Oh beloved, for I have seen your head bowed down with the heaviness of the cares around you, even that you have lost the will to carry on. For it may have seemed as if there has been no logical plan for your life...

... I have seen you, My child, as you have continued day by day doing all that you know to do and yet still there seemed to be no breakthrough.

I really feel the anointing on that for some of you...

And so you became weary in well doing. And after a time your limbs hung down. And indeed your face – which in the past had been radiant when experiencing My presence and My joy – has also become bowed down.

Oh My child, did you think I did not see? Did you think that My Hand had passed over you? Oh no, beloved. But you see,

And here we start talking about transition...

...there is time to discern and to understand the times and the seasons in your walk with Me, and many, many of My children, when passing through the aridness of a preparational season in their lives, fail to discern My ways and My purposes ordained for them to bring My ordained and higher purpose to fruition in their lives.

And so when it appears as though there is no growth and no fruit and no manifest sign of My presence or My purpose in their lives, they lose hope and lose courage and so become weary in well doing. And so it is beloved child that I plead with you this day: Lift up your head, strengthen your weary limbs, for indeed, the waiting process is almost complete.

And I am going to pray about that because I feel an anointing on that for some of you.

And yet a little while, yet a little while and your time of harvest shall be at hand.

Remember what we saw last time, the huge granary that the Lord said that everything you had ever sown into the Gospel, that the Father had sown a hundred or a thousand times and put it into a big seed storage place for you that was going to be released to you at the appointed time, when you were in divine alignment and not in the wrong place.

So arise, My child from the depression that circumstances have chained you in and unloose the fetters that bind you and once again, draw close to Me and embrace My presence.

For surely I tell you, that it is only when you take your eyes off My face and turn them back to yourself that in a season of waiting, a season of transition you will be overwhelmed. It is in this time of hardship, it is in this time of fallow ground when all around you seems bare that you must cling to Me and cling to the fellowship of My Holy Spirit.

For beloved, it is only in My presence that you will find the strength and the courage to carry on. And carry on indeed you shall, beloved, for there shall be a great recompense of reward for all who stay the course.

I had forgotten that was in there! That is what we said, last time. The Holy Spirit knows.

So lift up your head, My child, draw into your chamber, for I am with you. I am your lover. I am your great reward. I am your beloved. Come away with Me.

The Father loves you so much, and right now, I pray for all those who are in a time of transition, who are experiencing such weariness and depression and who have lost hope. And Father I want to ask you supernaturally, Father I release a supernatural release of Your strength to lift up the weary limbs Father. Father I release supernatural release of your strength, Father and Your joy. And Your hope, in the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ, Father, to lift up the weary limbs. And Father I ask that you shine Your Face on these your children, Father, that they would sense a fresh hope.

Oh Father, I ask for Your presence on those who feel so arid and so dry in this preparational season. For the Lord says, "There are those who have said, 'Father I don't understand, I have done everything I know to do, I have done everything I know to do. I have tried to be obedient in every way I can'..." And I just sense such love for you. I sense the Lord's joy and laughter as He looks at you and He is laughing and smiling at you because He knows what is right ahead up the road for you.

And you can't see it, because it seems you are only seeing this view right now, but the Lord sees what is ahead for you. He sees the whole, overall, wide view of the next season that is waiting for you and it is joyous, it is glorious, and the harvest is there for you. The desires of your heart are there for you and the promises that you have not yet seen come to fruition. Some of you have stood for so long, some of you have stood, not for weeks, not for months, some of you have stood for months and months and that is why the Lord is moving you out of transition.

"For it has been a comfortable place," says the Lord, "it has been a place that you are used to," says the Lord, "it's been a place where you have seen My provision," says the Lord "and you have seen My Hand. It has been a place that you have got used to," says the Lord, "it has been a familiar place," says the Lord, "and it has been right for the past season, but it is not right for the now, because I am moving you on," says the Lord. "And I am moving you on, and child the honest truth is this, that I have asked you to move of your own accord child, it was hard for you to move, so I have taken out some of the things of the natural that surround you. I have taken out some of the things in the natural that you have dreamed of, but My child I have only taken them for a season, and I have taken them so that you can listen to Me and hear My Voice with a clarity and seek My voice and seek My Face with a passion, My child, that you have not sought Me with for a long while in the past.

"And now My Child, watch this and watch My Hand upon your life, because you will see even in the coming weeks and the coming days, My child, there are going to be new openings ahead for you. Yes there will be things in your life that are shut. Yes there have been doors that you have not even understood that you felt were right, that have been shut, but My child they were right for the past season but they are not right for the present season and they are not right for the season that is coming upon you. Because, for the season that is coming upon you, I need you in a different place, I need you in a different place, I need you in a different place, I need you in a different place," says the Lord.

For some of you it is a different place geographically. You are going to move. I am sorry to say this, but some of you are going to move. You are going to uproot from your city, from your town, because the Lord says: "My destiny for you, in the place you have been, cannot be fulfilled where you are today, and I am moving you geographically. There are people who have been in business and I am calling you to ministry. I am calling you out," says the Lord. "I am calling you out," says the Lord, "I am calling you out. You have depended on the flesh and you have depended on the material and the natural and I couldn't call you out. So, this uncertainty in these days, is a time when you are going to seek My Face and I am calling you out. And I am calling some of you out to fulltime ministry. I am calling you out".

"And there are others of you at Bible College, and who are in ministry and I am calling you out of there, the other way round, because I am going to put you in the marketplace. And I am going to put you in the marketplace, and you are going to minister in the marketplace and I am going to put great wealth into your hands. And I am going to put great keys into your hands. Some of you will have keys that unlock nations, others will unlock governments, others will unlock politics and other will unlock media," says the Lord. "And the sports arena," says the Lord.

I have to finish now because we have run out of time, but I will be with you again next week. The Lord loves you so much. He loves you so much. If you are in transition please write me at wendy@god.tv. The Lord loves you so much and He wants you to know that although transition is uncomfortable, that He is moving you into a place of divine alignment for this End-Time season when your destiny and purpose is going to come into fruition as well as every promise and vision He has spoken to you, and it is going to be glorious!

*I will see you next time,
God Bless.*
